2. The USSR nonscientific program was generally approved with few suggestions for change at the 24th meeting on 4 November of the Committee on Exploitation of Foreign Language Publications. As a result of Air Research Division's entry into the field of biographic reporting it was agreed that FDD and ARD representatives would meet to coordinate coverage of scientific biographic information.

3. When Office of Technical Services, Department of Commerce, began its index and publication of Technical Translations in January 1959, it requested FDD assistance and received appropriate contributions from unclassified CTS files. After five months these contributions were discontinued when OTS stated that the bibliographic terseness of CTS listings did not comply with Technical Translations requirements for abstracts. This month at OTS request, contributions
